

WHY ATTEND THIS REUNION?

As distant relatives and friends, we will share food and memories, point out the changes in the world and speak about our current challenges and joys.

At the event, there will be polite smiles and facial recognition challenges gradually evolving into hearty laughter and relaxed familiarity. Time is strange. It makes virtually everything okay. Happy moments will fill vast expanses of routine life. This is a chance to step out of the daily routine.

Here is what we will learn or be reminded of if we attend:

1. Our life is really about family and friends; the ones you get and the ones you create. Sometimes they are both wonderful, but sometimes not. We have to nurture relationships.
2. It is often said that life is not fair. We often view it from our own perspectives. Almost all of the folks at the event will have had challenges yet remained rooted in a belief in the basic goodness of others and the golden rule. We are happy we attended!
3. We must always have a purpose and continue to seek meaning in life. This sounds easy, but with aging, it is common to let our world shrink around us until our televisions, computers and a few friends define our life. This reunion is an opportunity to spread our wings and enjoy each other if just for one night.
4. The benefit of these moments continues to reward us well into the future. They ground us and help us go forward to meet whatever the future holds.
